Win a Set of Junk Mail Magnets!

As a creative person by nature, my brain is constantly plagued with a growing list of projects that I want to start. It is a constant battle between the fun ideas in my head and the not-so-fun to-do list on my desk.

JunkMailGems.com is just one of my creative ventures that feeds into this mental list, always adding more ideas than I have time to create. However, I have managed to physically manifest 7 of my new product ideas into actual prototypes! As promised in some of my previous blog posts, I am going to give you all a sneak peek at what's in my head! But, it doesn't stop there!

Here's the situation...YOU need a set of 10

Junk Mail Gems catalog or security envelope magnets for free, and I need help deciding which products to stock up on and offer for sale on JunkMailGems.com first. So, in comes our first Junk Mail Gems free give-a-way contest!

The Rules:

You can enter in two easy steps....

1) Visit the contest posting on my blog and post a comment with your top 3 favorites in order of their favorite-ness! (#1 being most favorite, #2 being second favorite, etc)

2) Post a link to the contest on your own blog. If you do not have a blog, share it with your friends via email, Facebook, or wherever!

The winner will be chosen at random and announced on Friday, July 3rd.

GOOD LUCK!
