“Pre-cycle” your printer paper!

Ever print out an email or web page and get that wasted last page with only a couple words on it that you don't need?

Before of dropping them into the recycle bin, why not PRE-cycle them?! The back of these nearly blank sheets is still perfectly useable as scratch paper. You can also use those old mapquest directions printouts that you don't need anymore, as well as any printer mistakes and test sheets.

Turn the sheets over and chop 'em into fourths for perfect sized sheets to hold your phone messages, to-do lists, reminders and shopping lists!

This month we've added a new product designed specifically for this purpose! We now have scratch paper storage boxes, hand-woven out of recycled magazine and catalog pages, designed specifically to hold paper the size of an 8.5" x 11" sheet of paper cut into fourths. Check them out on our website in the "and more" section of the treasures page!

New Green Book!

Junk Mail Gems is going to be featured in a new book by Dave Evans & East Street Publishing! The book, "Cool Hunting Green" (published under the name "Cool Green Stuff" in the US) will be available in the USA, Australia, New Zealand and the UK next month! I've already pre-ordered my copy and you can check it out the US version as well at Amazon.com!
